Ann Arbor Public Art Commission Launches Public Opinion Survey

ANN ARBOR, Mich., January 11, 2012 — The Ann Arbor Public Art Commission (AAPAC) and the City of Ann Arbor are inviting residents to participate in an online survey to “re-imagine” public spaces in Ann Arbor by thinking about what would be valued and creative contributions to shared environments in our city.

AAPAC is seeking public opinion regarding the most desirable locations, projects and programs for public art and is gathering information from residents via an online survey that is available via a link on AAPAC’s website at www.a2gov.org/aapac or directly at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/K96SWGD>. The survey data will be used to help the commission decide what types of public art projects to pursue during the next few years.

The online survey takes approximately 10 minutes to complete. The survey closes February 20, 2012.

Ann Arbor has 114,000 residents, spans 27.7 square miles, and is frequently recognized as a foremost place to live, learn, work, thrive and visit (www.a2gov.org/news). To keep up with City of Ann Arbor information, subscribe for e-mail updates (www.a2gov.org/subscribe), follow us on Twitter (<http://twitter.com/a2gov>) or become a city fan on Facebook (www.facebook.com/thecityofannarbor). The city’s mission statement reads: The city of Ann Arbor is committed to providing excellent municipal services that enhance the quality of life for all through the intelligent use of resources while valuing an open environment that fosters fair, sensitive and respectful treatment of all employees and the community we serve.
