Closing the Loop

Closing the loop means to buy products made from recycled materials. Try to find ten products in your home that are made from recycled materials. You can also use packaging from products, but you may only use each type of packaging once. Look for the symbol which means "product contains recycled content" or read the label to see if the product/packaging contains post-consumer recycled content.

EXTENSION

Look at the products you and your family use each day. Find three products you use which are not made from recycled materials. Then visit a grocery store or do some research on the Internet. Find three similar products that contain recycled content you could purchase instead. Suggest buying these instead.
