A. OBJECTIVE

The City of Ann Arbor, Michigan, is hereby soliciting proposals from qualified offerors with expertise in solid waste engineering and financial services to develop a comprehensive Solid Waste Cost of Service Study. The purpose of this Study is to benchmark Ann Arbor’s current solid waste costs against other communities and to provide a long-term financial model for solid waste operations that will serve as a tool to quantify costs and identify funding needs. The offeror shall develop a comprehensive plan that will support recommendations to City Council.

Background:

The City of Ann Arbor is one of the largest and most dynamic cities in the State of Michigan. Ann Arbor has approximately 125,000 residents and continues to grow at a fast pace. The City provides comprehensive solid waste services to the residents and businesses of the City. Services include collection and disposal of trash; collection and processing of recyclables; and collection and composting of organic materials. The City’s solid waste services are provided by a combination of City crews and contracted services.

SECTION II - SCOPE OF SERVICES

INTRODUCTION AND OVERVIEW

The City of Ann Arbor, Michigan, is seeking proposals from qualified offerors/consultants to prepare a Solid Waste Cost of Service Study. The purpose of this Study is evaluate Ann Arbor’s current costs and revenues associated with solid waste programs, services and customer classes; and to provide a long-term financial model for the same programs, services and customer classes that will serve as a tool to quantify costs, revenues and identify funding needs or gaps. The Solid Waste Cost of Service Study will utilize actual expenditures and revenues for the City’s solid waste resources management system to calculate costs for each of the key functions of the system. These key functions include but are not limited to trash, recycle and compost collection, disposal and/or processing for residential, commercial, and multi-family customers; education, outreach and marketing for these same programs, and programs that support student move in/move out. For each function, costs shall be broken down to their components such as but not limited to contractual, labor, equipment, fuel, repair and maintenance, and disposal/processing. This will enable costs to be evaluated across functions to determine where costs may be higher to perform certain functions in comparison to others. It will also enable unit costs to be calculated (such as cost per hour), which can then be applied to various options.

The City of Ann Arbor Public Services Area’s Public Works Unit is responsible for the management and oversight of solid waste services and programs provided within the City of Ann Arbor. The information presented in this section and related Appendices are for informational purposes only. Each Proposer should take whatever steps it believes are necessary to determine the actual service requirements of the City and understand service conditions when preparing a proposal.

The City of Ann Arbor serves a population of approximately 125,000 people in an area of approximately twenty-eight square miles. There are over 28,000 single-family and multi-family residential units in the city that receive one day per week trash, recycle, and compost collection. In addition, there are approximately 1,500 commercial and larger multi-family properties that receive trash and recycle collection on a scheduled basis of either once or more than once per week collection. Commercial and multi-family properties do not currently have compost collection service at scale, but this is a service the City will be expanding with the receipt of the newly passed climate action millage, to be available starting July 1, 2023.

Collection services are provided by City staff and by private contractors, which has resulted in a comprehensive, yet complex, system due to new services being added or current services being modified over time. Post-collection services including trash transfer and disposal, recycling processing, and composting that are performed by private contractors under contract to the City. The City owns the transfer station used for trash transfer and contracts the operation to a private company. Similarly, the City owns its own compost facility and contracts the operation to a private company. The City owns the land and building where the material recovery facility is located, leases the land and contracts the operation to a non-profit entity.
Current service providers vary depending on the generator (resident, multi-family or business), and on the type of service (trash, recycling, or compost). Figure 1 provides a high-level summary of the current services and service providers by generator type. Providers of collection services include the City of Ann Arbor (City), Recycle Ann Arbor (RAA), and Waste Management (WM). Collection is made either from carts, dumpsters, or compactors as graphically shown in Figure 1.

The City offers weekly curbside compost collection program for single family homes that typically runs from the first week of April to the first week of December (depending on weather). The program was extended to cover the winter months of January, February and March in 2022, by adding a once-a-month collection in the first week of each month. City trucks collect and haul resident compostable materials to the City’s Compost Facility. The City’s Compost Facility is currently operated and maintained by WeCare Denali LLC. At present there is limited compost collection from multi-family properties, however, this is an area the City would like to grow, and anticipates collection would occur using City crews and City trucks. Commercial compost collection is also limited at this time, but the City seeks to grow those collections as well, and anticipates using a third-party hauler to provide those collections either utilizing the subcontractor identified under the recently approved Commercial Solid Waste Refuse Franchise Agreement, or other party. The cost for this service would be billed directly to the customer, although the City seeks to better understand this cost and would like to identify opportunities if any, for the City to incentivize commercial properties to adopt this service.

Recycle Ann Arbor (RAA) is the Contractor that operates the City of Ann Arbor’s Materials Recovery Facility (MRF). In addition, RAA is responsible for curbside collection of recyclable materials for City single family residential units, multi-family units (11 units or more), commercial units, mixed use buildings, and civic units (such as City parks) where curb cart collection is appropriate. The City of Ann Arbor collects recyclable materials from commercial units that have recycle dumpsters. The City also manages all recycling carts.
Waste Management of Michigan, Inc. (WM) is the Contractor that is the franchised hauler for commercial solid waste collection. Therefore, WM is responsible for refuse collection and disposal from commercial locations and some multi-family locations as well in Ann Arbor (both inside the downtown service area and outside the downtown service area). The City of Ann Arbor also services some commercial properties. WM’s subcontractor for compostables and food scrap collection services for commercial establishments and multi-family establishments of 11 or more units is My Green Michigan, LLC. In addition, WM is the Contractor that operates the City’s Transfer Station. WM’s subcontractor is Recycle Waste Services (RWS) and they provide solid waste transfer, transport, and disposal services. The City’s Transfer Station receives refuse predominantly collected by City crews and the City’s solid waste franchised hauler. The Transfer Station also receives solid waste from third parties like Republic Services and Recycle Ann Arbor.

This Solid Waste Cost of Service Study will include a breakdown of costs by generator sector (residential, commercial, multi-family) as well as by function within each sector (trash, recycling, compost). The Study will also evaluate the costs associated with related programs including Student Move In/Move Out; solid waste program education; and solid waste enforcement. This will be used to evaluate the sustainability of current funding options and levels, and alternate funding options will also be evaluated with consideration of the required revenue to fund and sustain existing and new/future programs.

This Cost-of-Service Study will be a useful tool for the City when developing annual budgets, monitoring operations and financial performance, and ensuring that the Solid Waste Fund is able to absorb annual adjustments. The Solid Waste Fund receives revenue from a local solid waste millage and user fees for some services.

The scope of services shall, at a minimum, include the following:

1) Planning:
   a) A Meeting with the project team that includes City Solid Waste staff and Finance staff to review proposed scope of services and available data.
   b) Define roles and responsibilities of City Staff and project team members.
   c) A timeline with milestones of the statistical analysis plan, financial model design and development, and final reporting.
   d) Review the comprehensive list of services provided to residents and businesses of the City (provided by a combination of City crews and contracted services):
      (1) Collection and disposal of trash/refuse.
      (2) Collection and processing of recyclables.
      (3) Collection and composting of organic materials.
      (4) Education and outreach programs and services.
   e) Review of the City’s current solid waste costs of service at a functional level. Quantify service costs by sector (e.g., residential, multi-family, commercial) and material stream (e.g., trash, recycling, compost). Group expenses by cost type and then break down to key components. Review shall include an assessment of the:
      (1) Operations expenses: direct costs including labor, fleet, fuel, truck repair and maintenance, collection, transfer, disposal, material processing (recyclables and compost), container delivery, disposal/processing costs, and other recurring activities. Operations expenses include costs of services provided by City employees as well as contracted services.

2) Administration expenses: indirect costs including support services from other departments (e.g., customer Service, management and planning, education and outreach, and administrative and municipal services allocations).

3) Financial adjustments, including long-term liabilities such as pension liabilities, retiree benefits, closed landfill liability and capital asset adjustments.

4) Historical financial operating revenues and costs.

5) City’s Solid Waste Management Ordinance and Solid Waste Regulations as they relate to solid waste costs and fees.

f) Review how revenue is generated to support solid waste programs in the City.

1) Solid Waste Millage (charged on property taxes based on the taxable property value).

2) Fees for services (primarily paid by commercial properties). These fees are paid by businesses based on their waste collection container size and collection frequency according to rates established by the City. A small amount of the fees are also paid by residents through purchase of compost carts or residential waste cart upgrades.

3) Royalties, revenue shares, and other miscellaneous sources such as interest. Royalties and revenue shares can fluctuate from year to year based on flow of third-party tonnage to the City’s Transfer Station and Compost Facility and commodity market pricing for recyclables.

2) Cost of Service Analysis and Financial Model Development:

a) Analysis of current and historical capital and operational expenditures with the purpose of properly classifying and segregating the costs associated with various operations.

1) Functional operations to be analyzed include:
   • Residential solid waste collection and disposal.
   • Residential compost collection and composting.
   • Commingled residential curbside recycling collection.
   • Commercial commingled recycling collection.
   • Recycling processing.
   • Commercial solid waste collection and disposal.
   • City event-related, City parks, and downtown street-side pedestrian container solid waste services.
   • Former landfill maintenance and compliance activities.

2) The resulting analysis should provide a detailed accounting of costs by function in total (i.e. annual cost) and on a unit cost basis (e.g. cost per household per month, cost per ton). Presenting the costs in this manner is standard within the solid waste industry and enables comparison of the City’s costs for its current programs to other communities.

b) Analysis of the City’s operational data and service parameters to determine the allocation of indirect expenses to each function in order to assess costs of service. Allocations must be made utilizing data including:

1) City staffing levels and collection labor hours.

2) Customer counts by sector (residential, multi-family, commercial).
(3) Collection route data including number of routes, collection frequency, collected containers, containers on-site, container volumes.
(4) Collection truck data including fuel consumption, repair costs, depreciation, and replacement costs reported by the City’s Fleet and Facilities Unit.
(5) Collected material tons and disposed or processed tons.
(6) Contractor invoices from Recycle Ann Arbor, Waste Management, WeCare Denali, and other Solid Waste Contractors.
c) Analysis and classification of rate recommendations as they relate to the City’s current debt service obligations.
d) Review and analysis of maintenance and operation expense requirements projected by the City and allocation to proper cost centers.
e) Incorporation of provisions for the age and condition of the current infrastructure, funding requirements for all current long-term liabilities and possible future debt obligations and projected demands into the proposed rate structure and financial model.
f) Recommended financial model based on 5, 10 and 20-year time horizons.
g) Development of alternatives based on best practices.
h) Recommended rate and rate structure required to support the community’s values and priorities for solid waste services.
i) Comparison of recommended rate structure with the existing rate structure.
j) Evaluation the current customer classifications and a recommendation for changes.
k) Develop and recommend implementation plan that identifies milestones for transitioning to the recommended rate structure.

3) Evaluation and Recommendation:
a) This Cost of Service Study must provide a sound understanding of costs and drivers within the City’s current programs.
b) This Cost of Service Study must identify any factors that impact the long-term sustainability of the Solid Waste Fund and limit its use.
c) This Cost of Service Study must identify additional revenues or cost savings necessary to implement and sustain program expansions or additions.
d) Proposed modifications to the City’s ordinances and policies as they relate to solid waste services.
e) A recommendation on the allocation of the costs between services and customer classes.
f) A recommendation for more effective cost recovery compared to the current practice.
g) A recommendation of the best option for cost recovery including a summary of industry practices.

Deliverables shall include:
A. Provide an executive summary that details the key results, findings, and final recommendations of the Study. Provide the City with 15 printed copies of this final report. Include a digital file with report and include all graphics in non-proprietary, computer software format. Digital files shall be provided in both editable and PDF file formats. Proposed software format must be identified in the proposal.
B. Recommendations on current industry business practices and methods to develop and implement financial decision-making tools.
C. Recommendations regarding necessary cost accounting to support future cost-of-service and rate-making calculations.

D. A cost-of-service model for use in future rate adjustment calculations, in an agreed upon, non-proprietary, software application format, that can be used to study various scenarios by factoring in such variables as capital improvements, additional personnel, operating costs, and debt service. Proposed software format must be identified in proposal. Consultant shall work with City staff to determine model variables. The models shall include the ability for the City to enter various budgets by the rate component categories, consumption levels, customer counts by customer class, and have the model calculate the rate required by service and customer class to generate needed revenues. Upon acceptance of the models by the City, the models and software will become the property of the City.
